☞ Note carefully the name of this Company, THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK, that it may not be confounded with others somewhat similar in name.

Extracts referring to the MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF N. Y.

"The Mutual Life has already become so solid as to attract general admiration, both here and in Europe."—Hon. WILLIAM BARNES, Superintendent Insurance Department, State of New York.

"The Leading Life Assurance Association of this Continent. Also, the model one of the World."—Hon. ELIZUR WRIGHT, Ins. Com. Mass.

"The most successful Insurance Company in the World."—New York Insurance Monitor.

"An assured Success, the Grandest ever achieved in Life Insurance.—Ins. Monitor.

"This Company stands at the very head of all Institutions of its class in this Country."—New York Independent.

"This Company is the Largest and one of the Best Managed in this Country."—Cyclopædia of Commerce.

Great and numerous as are the triumphs of American progress, we search in vain for one more praiseworthy and complete than this Company, and, if we were desirous of impressing a foreigner most favorably with the character and extent of our benevolent institutions, this is the first one to which we should call his attention. It actually and practically combines all the prime excellences of the ideal of philanthropists, and, with its immense accumulation of Cash Assets, now nearly reaching TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, is one of the great marvels of the age—as successful and perfect in its operation as it is beneficent and hallowed in its aim and object.

By a comparative examination of its Twenty-fourth Annual Statement, we learn that the growth and work accomplished by the MUTUAL LIFE in one year exceed in extent the results achieved by the majority of companies during the entire term of their existence.

Its receipts for year 1866–7 amounted to nearly SIX AND A QUARTER MILLIONS, and its increase in net cash assets to over THREE AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

Such amounts, surprising as they are, are easily ascertained and set down, but who shall calculate the actual value of the work accomplished? This Company paid, during the year, claims by death, approximating to the sum of EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, and who can estimate the present and prospective good to the widow, the orphan, the dependent, to society, to the world itself, that this expenditure will effect? It will bear a moral interest immeasurably greater than any mere pecuniary return can parallel. At the same time the Company undertook a glorious task for the future—one which it will faithfully perform—by issuing 15,258 new policies, insuring $53,480,330—the largest business ever done by any similar company in a single year.

There is another feature which, more than its size, stability, and perfect organization, contributes to render this Company the most popular of our Life institutions, and that is its liberality in accommodating its members, and the benefits they reap from its judicious and skillful management. Its dividends are available at the end of the first year of a policy, and so economically have its affairs been conducted, so low has been the rate of mortality among its members, and so profitable have its investments proved, that it was last year, without infringing upon its most ample reserve, enabled to pay its insured nearly SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS in dividends in Cash.

PREFACE.

In presenting this his first edition to the sustainers of a "Home" Directory, the publisher feels that allowance will be made for any discrepancies that may occur. Notwithstanding the great labor consequent upon entering on a comparatively new work of the kind, and the limited time he had to accomplish it, he has endeavored to meet their requirements. Improvements enhancing its value might be introduced, which time, throughout the coming year, will afford, should the citizens feel disposed to receive it with the same kindly sympathy and encouragement already extended, and continue its support.

Owing to the unfortunate circumstance of two occupying the field, his canvassers experienced much difficulty in obtaining reliable information, many confounding it with the work published elsewhere, many giving wrong information through terror of tax gatherers and other officials, and many refusing their names, "not wishing to be known in the Directory." A list of such refusals may hereafter be published (as in other cities), to relieve the work from the imputation of omissions.

He is pained to learn that canvassers have made use of his name in a manner not only in the highest degree unkind, but much to his injury; yet it is gratifying to know, that in general, much interest was expressed in this "Home" enterprise, and every assistance afforded. This, if universally extended, with continual watchfulness on the part of the publisher, will render the work complete and adapted to the wishes and requirements of all our citizens, as well as the business portion, and make it a household work representing every interest of the City. He would therefore earnestly invite the co-operation of every citizen, and those who know of any errors or omissions, however trivial, in the present work, to inform him thereof that they may be corrected in the next issue. Such favors will be gratefully acknowledged, and entered in a book kept for that purpose at the Directory office, No. 3 Mechanic street, from which information will be cheerfully imparted. Changes have been made since we went to press, and errors may have occurred through over anxiety to have the work issued at an early day.

As our floating population is very great, hope is entertained that all keepers of boarding houses may be induced in future to give the names of their boarders, which in many instances could be obtained only with the greatest difficulty and by repeated inquiries. A canvasser, failing to obtain the name of one known to be in the City, sought him at five different places, and accidentally found him at his place of business, and was told he did not wish to have his name appear in the Directory, as he hoped this year to escape his taxes. In the spelling of names preference has been given to that used by their respective owners, which will account for some differences between this and prior editions. For instance, in the edition of 1864 O'Brien is spelled with an a; in that of 1866, with an e. Attention is called to this important matter, that citizens may be particular to have their names (as well as their occupations) properly given to canvassers, and not leave them to the conjecture of the publisher.

The advertising sheets might have been quadrupled had not the ground been covered in advance by others. Difficulty has been experienced in establishing a fixed tariff for advertising, that all may be equally served; as we learn a departure from those as advertised for the work published elsewhere has been made. We hold a reasonable rate should be established for all, and do not feel like charging a friend, or one who wishes to encourage "Home," full price, and favor him who is indifferent by reduced rates. It is not just. As we do not wish to rely on other cities for advertisements, we trust another season will regulate this matter. We hope our "Business Directory" will meet with favor, and, through the co-operation of business men, hereafter be all that can be desired.

Much labor has been bestowed upon the City (or Street) Guide, to render it intelligible, but owing to the great irregularity of numbers throughout the City, it seems almost impossible to present it as it should be. Streets have been re-named without being re-numbered. Many are being re-numbered, and many have been numbered by the occupants or owners according to their various fancies. In some instances they have been numbered from their insurance policies, tax bills, lot numbers, by property, &c., &c. In one of the outer wards we found No. 175 beside No. 12. On inquiring "where they obtained their numbers," we were told by the former it was taken from his insurance policy; the latter, "as he had no number he numbered his house in memory of the age of a deceased daughter." At another house, No. 6, which was beside that of 112, we were told he "numbered it after his disbanded fire company." Many such cases might be mentioned. For want of a regular system of numbering adopted by the City, the inhabitants seem to be perfectly reckless in the matter, placing odd and even numbers upon the same dwelling. Some have two and even three numbers, and declare they will put on "all that comes." In some localities they vie with each other in placing wrong numbers on their houses, as they say "to drive the City to renumber, as it ought to be." It is not an unusual answer to the inquiry: Where do you reside? "I don't know; the street is called by so many different names and numbers I have no locality." Even in our main business thoroughfare, Broad street, the numbers are far from what they should be. At the upper end of Washington Park, near the National Hotel, is 104. Opposite is 105, while at the lower end of said Park, corner of Washington Place, is 108; and directly opposite is 157. So also further down, corner of Mechanic street, the State Bank and dwelling have one number, 315, opposite 320; while the next number below the First Presbyterian Church is 317, and opposite is 336. Lower down, (382) two places of business, one office, two dwellings, together with the Third Presbyterian Church, have about the same number. It is estimated that about one-fifth of the houses in the city are without numbers.

We have had the numbers taken from the dwellings in a few of the streets, and publish them, that public attention may be called to the subject, and some regular system adopted. The dash indicates houses not numbered; the brace and double numbers the numbers to one house.

NEWARK MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

NO. 250 BROAD STREET, BELOW ACADEMY STREET, AND NEAR THE POST OFFICE.

(Formerly Corner of Broad and Cedar Streets.)

Organized in 1810. Incorporated in 1811. Accumulated Capital, $250,000.

The Newark Mutual has always been a purely mutual Company.

There are no privileged Stockholders who receive twenty-five per cent. of the profits, but the ENTIRE EARNINGS belong to the insured or to the scrip holders.

Persons who have been insured for a number of years in this Company, have accumulated a fund, the INTEREST of which is more than sufficient to pay their yearly premiums.

At a time when so many of the formerly first-class Companies in New York city and other places are failing to make any dividends to their policy holders, the attention of property owners is invited to the security and the promise of large returns to the insured offered by this Company.

Insurance is solicited on all kinds of real and personal property, and will be taken at as low rates as will prove remunerative both to the Company and the parties insured.

AMERICAN

MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

No. 259 BROAD-ST., NEWARK, N. J.

CHARTERED IN 1846.

CHARTER PERPETUAL.

Accumulated Cash Assets, January 1, 1866, $535,400 91.

The advantages of this Company, as its name indicates, is that it is purely mutual, there being no stockholders to receive a share of the profits, and all the profits belong to the insured, who do not incur liability for losses.

This Company has declared, out of its profits, scrip dividends of fifty per cent. on mutual premiums since the organization of the Company. And by the plan adopted for issuing scrip the insured do not lose the fractions of shares to which they are entitled and which in most Companies are wholly or in part forfeited.

It has sufficient surplus, over all liabilities to insure (except under very extraordinary circumstances,) a continuance of the Scrip and Cash dividends heretofore paid to mutual insurers—while scrip of most participating Companies is first cancelled before the capital is affected, in case of mutual loss.

283 BROAD STREET, NEWARK, N. J.

Capital and Surplus December 31, 1866, $224,939 31.

This Company divides Annually, three-quarters of the profits to the insured.

By insuring in this Company the benefits of a mutual policy are obtained with the additional advantage of an ample Cash Capital, safely invested for the security of policy holders, while the insured incur no liability of assessment.

This Company has never failed to declare a semi-annual dividend to stockholders, and since its adoption of the Participating Plan in 1863, has returned to Mutual policy holders

ANNUAL SCRIP DIVIDENDS OF 60 PER CENT.

We also issue policies without the participating clause, at as low rates as is consistent with the security of the insured.

POPULATION OF NEWARK.

The following table shows the annual increase of our population from the year 1826—when it was but 8,017—up to the present time. During the rebellion our numbers materially diminished, owing to the scarcity of employment and the large quota contributed to the army. Notwithstanding these serious drawbacks, however, we now rank the Tenth City in the Union, with an estimated population of 94,800 :

CHAS. W. COMPTON,

Funeral Furnishing Warerooms,

148 MARKET STREET,

NEWARK, N. J.

During the many years that I have received the favor of the citizens of Newark and vicinity, it has been my constant study and purpose to keep fully up with the age in every branch of the business—not only in complete, costly and elegant Hearses, Coaches and Funeral Fittings, but also in all the appropriate solemnities of burial; and in this connection I think I can in perfect fairness, and without egotism, assert that I have been the first in this country to introduce many needed improvements—among them a Hearse expressly for Children.

In the Arrangement and Management of Funerals

I am fully prepared to furnish all that is requisite, while my stock of

BURIAL ROBES,

COFFINS,

ROSEWOOD and

METAL CASKETS,

&c., &c., is Unexcelled.

I am also sole manufacturer of Hermetically sealed Burial Ca various kinds of woods, in cloth or velvet finish.

CORPSE PRESERVERS

Of the most approved construction and principle, which permit a view of the body while in preservation.

My establishment possessing the above advantages and facilities enables me to make my charges as favorable as those elsewhere.

Calls at all hours, DAY or NIGHT, promptly attended to.
